CCQ A330/A340 - A320 PROGRAM

During our Cross Crew Qualification (CCQ) program from A330 / A340 to A320 we seek to ensure that the student pilot reaches the necessary level to perform, safely and adequately, normal, abnormal and emergency operations in the A320, all its systems, as well as performances and their different calculations. Always within their boundaries and under our standards of academic excellence.

During the ground training phase, the pilot student will review the Airbus 320 systems through our CBT, where they will be supported at all times by our team of highly qualified instructors with extensive experience in our sector to later move on to the testing phase.

Full-Flight Simulator (FFS) sessions are conducted in level D simulators.

The simulator sessions of our CCQ program are designed at all times to maximize the skills and capabilities of our student pilot, developing the necessary skills to resolve emergencies and contingencies in flight, evaluating decision-making always with a high level of situational awareness.
